CATALOGUE DESCRIPTION

A continuation and refinement of the modern dance techniques and principles addressed in DANC 20100. Emphasis placed on expressive qualities of movement.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Develop technical skills and performance artistry in modern dance. This course addresses the functional anatomical approach to modern dance movement through dance exercises that stress an ability to move with economy, fluidity, strength and mobility. Artistry, expression, and performance qualities are addressed through performing class material for movement exams. Additionally, students will gain knowledge of modern dance through concert attendance, written assignments and classroom discussions. Material in class builds sequentially and expands exponentially, thus emphasis will be placed on mastering techniques and skills as they are presented in order to progress to the next level.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

1. Develop a more integrated body through specifically focused exercises.
2. Gain basic knowledge in functional anatomy and its application to dance.
3. Strengthen skill through the practice of advanced level modern dance combinations.
4. Deepen understanding of one's own expressive "voice" as a performer.

REQUIREMENTS

A. Attendance

Each class focuses on a specific topic that is not repeated with the same detail in following classes, and each class builds on the last. When you miss class, you lack knowledge for the next class. To keep your participation grade high, it is best not to miss two or more classes in a row as this creates a vacuum in your knowledge. If you must take an absence, it is the student's responsibility to seek help to learn missed movement material from their peers or the instructor.

Only three absences are allowed before your final grade average will drop. Excused absences require a letter from the university. Each additional absence will lower your final grade by 5% points.

4 absences = ½ a grade drop	100 – 5 = 95%
5 absences = ½ a grade drop	95 – 5 = 90%
6 absences = ½ a grade drop	90 – 5 = 85%

In case of injury, please refer to Division of Dance Attendance Policy and discuss the matter with your professor.

If you are not feeling well, do not come to class. Illness is considered an absence. Use your three absences wisely. Please communicate any concerns regarding absences as soon as possible. Communication is key to a successful semester. You are always welcome to wear a mask in class if you are feeling under the weather.

B. Promptness

You are considered tardy if you arrive after I have completed attendance. If you enter after I have begun teaching, you must sign the tardy sheet at the door to make sure your attendance is accounted. If you are more than fifteen minutes late to class, you will not be allowed to participate in class and will receive an absence. Three tardies equal one full absence. Leaving class early will result in a tardy. Remember it is your responsibility to sign the tardy sheet if tardy. If you enter class tardy and forget to do so you will receive an absence for that day.

C. Proper Attire

Wear dance clothing such as light dance pants, sweats or leggings, tank tops, t-shirts/long or short sleeves, solid colors are recommended. You may bring layers to keep warm. You will be asked to remove bulky layers once class has begun. Make sure you are supported with the necessary under garments. Please follow proper hygiene. No bulky jewelry and no gum. No outerwear. Clothing cannot have buttons, rivets, or zippers; these damage the dance floor. Hair must be secured away from the face, even if it is a shorter haircut. I must be able to see your eyes at all times.

If you are not wearing proper attire, you will not be allowed to take class and will receive an absence or must observe for that class. This decision is made at the discretion of the instructor.

The Division of Dance is not responsible for any stolen items. We provide lockers in the dressing rooms for your belongings. To keep your belongings safe, you are to bring your own lock and lock-up these possessions during your class period only. Shoes have been stolen as well as other expensive items such as computers and wallets. Therefore, consider also locking up your shoes along with your other possessions.

D. Submitting Assignments

You must submit assignments on Brightspace. Some assignments will be completed in class and will be turned in in-person. Late assignments will receive a 5% deduction with each day the assignment is late. Always keep a copy of your submitted assignments for your records. If you are having trouble completing an assignment on time, communicate this challenge to the instructor as soon as possible.

B-	80 – 82	D-	60 – 62
		F	0 – 59

A. Participation

Your participation in this course is vital for your learning and development. This grade is based on the quality and consistency of your participation in class. Your participation grade is cumulative. Therefore, strong participation requires that you are completely present and attentive to the instruction throughout class, you voice yourself in discussion, you assert yourself fully in all exercises and you do not socialize with others. You develop yourself with each class. Poor participation is reflected by being unfocused, distracted, and not physically asserting oneself in movement combinations and exercises - in this case you are unable to follow directions well, apply feedback, or improve your skill. Your overall grade suffers quickly when you do not fully participate.

Cell phones & smart watches: From the time class begins at 12:00 p.m. through my dismissal, all cell phones & smart watches must be turned off and put away. They are not allowed in class. If you are caught with a phone or smart watch during class, you will receive a 0% for participation on that day.

B. Movement Exams & Quizzes

Movement exams and quizzes are skill-based assessments and will cover material addressed throughout the semester. These grades are based on your growth, effort, and understanding of the movement material performed and applying proper technique and concepts to dynamic movement. The movement exam rubric will be posted on Brightspace prior to the 1st movement exam. If you are unable to attend a movement exam, you must contact your instructor immediately to discuss your conflict and the resolution.

C. Assignments

a. Readings/Reflections/Discussions

Participation in this course will involve readings, written reflection assignments, and discussions. These assignments are designed to incite critical thinking in regard to the modern dance and our personal connection to modern dance. Assignment requirements and due dates will be posted on Brightspace.

b. Personal Evaluations/Reflections

These assignments invite you to think about your understanding kinesiology, technique, and artistry. You will assess your growth, goals, and struggles in these assignments.

c. Group Projects

This assignment is designed to make connections between technique and artistic expression. Assignment requirements and details will be posted on Brightspace and discussed in-class.

D. PCDC Concert Viewing & Assignment

You will watch the Purdue Contemporary Dance Winter Works Concert and analyze one work from the concert through a modern dance lens. The concert critique paper is due Wednesday, December 13 via Brightspace. Student tickets ($12.00) can be purchased at any campus box office or thru Ticketmaster. Students in all dance classes are required to attend this concert, fulfill an assignment given by the instructor based on their experience, and provide proof of ticket purchase. There is no substitute or make-up for this assignment. Please place the dates of the concert in your calendar.

Purdue Contemporary Dance Winter Works Concert

Friday, December 8 at 7:30 pm & Saturday, December 9 at 2:30 pm & 7:30 pm
Hansen Theatre, Pao Hall

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Consent Practice

The Division of Dance utilizes a practice of consent in all dance classes, auditions, and rehearsals. Instructors will describe their approach to tactile feedback on the first day of classes. Students have agency to communicate in their chosen mode their level of comfort or discomfort with tactile feedback. Instructors encourage students to communicate as often as they need their desires to not receive or to receive feedback via touch throughout the semester. Additionally, this permission to use or to not use tactile cues may vary from class to class, moment to moment and it is the priority of the Dance Division that students feel safe in our studio classrooms. All instructors will respect the body autonomy and any communication from the students.
